06/07/2017 13:07:10 PM from Susan Craven to All Participants:
How did you get United Way to sponsor you?

06/07/2017 13:08:15 PM from Barbara Scott to All Participants:
I wrote a grant. It was the first time that our local United Way had sponsored an education project. We just had our interview last week, and hopefully will be sponsored for a 5th year. We had 2,735 folks through our three 10-week programs last year!

06/07/2017 13:14:42 PM from Sharon Hawkes to All Participants:
Will be doing a story walk incorporating movement this coming year.

06/07/2017 13:15:33 PM from Janice Harris to All Participants:
Storywalk also sounds like it would be great for the kids to move from page to page

06/07/2017 13:16:06 PM from Barbara Scott to All Participants:
we did one last year (?) when the summer program was health and fitness. We got downtown businesses to put posters in front windows so folks could walk downtown...window to window.

06/07/2017 13:16:17 PM from Angela Llewellyn to All Participants:
I've done several storywalks here. We added a petting zoo at the end, to one, as well.

06/07/2017 13:36:47 PM from Barbara Scott to All Participants:
what's great about our MMM program is that it cuts across all income barriers...we know that there are programs out there that cost $$$...we feel that we are leveling the playing field.

06/07/2017 13:36:58 PM from April Roy to All Participants:
Yes. We have an amazing instructor that teaches to all fitness levels.

06/07/2017 13:37:10 PM from Jennifer Dye to All Participants:
Suggestions for finding instructors for fitness programs?

06/07/2017 13:37:32 PM from Barbara Scott to All Participants:

Facebook is a good start.

06/07/2017 13:37:37 PM from Kristen Case to All Participants:
I earned certification as a group ex instructor and can lead my own classes. Some specific programs like Zumba, Pound, etc are licensed and you need a certified instructor for those. I have had luck partnering with our local Y.

06/07/2017 13:37:49 PM from Susan Craven to All Participants:
People will suggest instructors. Mine do it for a minimal fee.

06/07/2017 13:37:56 PM from Susan Craven to All Participants:
And they are certified

06/07/2017 13:38:19 PM from Janice Harris to All Participants:
Something to work towards and yes, budget is always a concern

06/07/2017 13:38:31 PM from April Roy to All Participants:
Ours was doing classes at a local church. I agree that people will make suggestions if you ask.

06/07/2017 13:39:08 PM from Kristen Case to All Participants:
With our local Y, they pay the instructor and I add their logo to our promos, as well as have membership info out at our class. It's a win-win. Doesn't cost me a thing!

06/07/2017 13:40:23 PM from Janice Harris to All Participants:
Partnerships are great

06/07/2017 13:41:27 PM from Barbara Scott to All Participants:
that was one of the questions that our interviewers asked for the grant was "has it brought new users in"....it absolutely has!

06/07/2017 13:44:10 PM from Sharon Hawkes to All Participants:
...and to get out of the library, if you are having trouble getting more people in the door.

06/07/2017 13:46:24 PM from Erika Brock to Noah Lenstra (privately):
Have to scoot out a little early. Thank you for sharing all of your findings!

06/07/2017 13:47:11 PM from Sharon Hawkes to All Participants:

06/07/2017 13:49:03 PM from Lindsay Johnston to All Participants:

06/07/2017 13:50:25 PM from Barbara Scott to All Participants:
Our Help Me Grow (local) and in a surrounding community actually refer folks to our Music and Movement program.

06/07/2017 13:50:45 PM from Paula Boggs to All Participants:
StoryWalk for children sounds interesting too!!

06/07/2017 13:50:53 PM from Charlotte Hardesty to All Participants:
Our yoga instructor is certified, and offers the yoga class free of charge, but allows donations as she drives 45 miles one way to get here.

06/07/2017 13:51:05 PM from Sharon Hawkes to All Participants:
Funding possibilities?

06/07/2017 13:51:10 PM from Lauren Siebert to All Participants:
As these programs are becoming more popular are there more grants becoming available to help fund these activities? Do you know any good resources for these types of grants?

06/07/2017 13:51:17 PM from Paula Boggs to All Participants:

Yes, would be interested in hold harmless forms

06/07/2017 13:52:12 PM from Ann LaRosee to All Participants:

This is more of a comment, but I think that the desire for movement based programs is driven by the same impulse that drives the maker movement. People don't want to be passive, they want active engagement and the community that grows out of it.

06/07/2017 13:52:26 PM from Barbara Scott to All Participants:

Grants: Local United Way...Rotary Clubs have a literacy initiative....Kiwanis....community foundations.

06/07/2017 13:52:54 PM from Lindsay Johnston to All Participants:

Thank you for the suggestions!

06/07/2017 13:53:00 PM from Jesse Lewis to All Participants:

My library has partnerships with instructors of programs like Crouching Tigers (kids' martial arts), Kindermusik, etc. who are basically franchise owners. They charge for their programs, but the cost goes to the patron and they offer scholarships or reduced fees through their own programs. We don't have to pay them directly, they handle all the fees from participants directly, and we get a percentage of their fees collected in exchange for offering our space for free.

06/07/2017 13:53:04 PM from Barbara Scott to All Participants:

Of if you have a big industry in your community that would partner with.

06/07/2017 13:53:10 PM from Noah Lenstra to All Participants:

06/07/2017 13:54:43 PM from Elizabeth Roth to All Participants:

06/07/2017 13:55:06 PM from Barbara Scott to All Participants:

Those who attend 7 out of 10 weeks get an instrument to take home--sandblocks, bells, shakers....we hope that they will recreate the experience at home with kiddos. Plus we give them the list of songs that we use that 10 week session so that they can download.

06/07/2017 13:55:18 PM from Samantha Nelson to All Participants:
Another amazing way to bypass instructors is to follow along with videos. liek this
